Manager Comment

Global equities have rallied since March through the pandemic-imposed lockdowns, as investors welcome the support by central banks and governments. But the rebound remains sensitive to concerns around second-wave infections that constrain the swift reopening of economies. Plunging corporate earnings amid the coronavirus-related stall in activity will weigh heavily on a rebound in global economic growth. Following more than a decade-long expansion, the US economy has plunged into a sharp downturn with the coronavirus crisis disrupting travel, shutting down businesses and triggering mass layoffs. China's outlook is improving following months of severe economic disruptions brought upon by the coronavirus. The domestic economy has continued to recover, particularly on the production side. COVID-19 will hammer Chinese economic growth this year, but the worst may already be over. The COVID-19 pandemic will deliver a long-lasting shock to South Africa. When the outbreak struck, the economy was already in recession. The drastic containment measures implemented to curb the spread will deepen the contraction. Although PMI releases to date paint an initial picture, the full impact of the lockdown has yet to show up in the economic data.

In May, as the dollar broadly weakened against most currencies, the rand strengthened some 4.17% against the greenback. The MSCI World index delivered some 0.63% in rands. The MSCI EM index lagged its developed market counterparts in May delivering some -3.25% in rands. The ALSI delivered some 0.31% in rands. Developed market bond yields were largely unchanged in May and the Bloomberg Barclays Capital Global Aggregate delivered -3.58% in rands. The SA Reserve Bank announced a 50bps reduction in the repurchase rate. The latest cut takes the rate to an almost 47-year low of 3.75%. The feared foreign bond sales emanating from the FTSE World Government Bond Index exit did not materialise to any great extent in May. In May bond yields declined, and the ALBI delivered some 7.06% in rands. Inflation-linked bonds underperformed their nominal counterparts delivering some 1.50% in rands. The local listed property market continues to deliver negative returns and declined some 0.76% in rands. Local cash returned some 0.50% for the month of May.
